Description
there is a new version, current version does not work under php 5.3 (constructors!)

History

#1 - 03/03/2011 14:46 - Sven Vanpoucke

NuSoap will not be used anymore for our webservices since we are supporting the REST protocol.

#2 - 03/03/2011 15:45 - Nathalie Blocry

then it should be removed, there are quite some "example" files in the stable version that still use SOAP.

#3 - 03/03/2011 15:48 - Sven Vanpoucke

They are built on the old webservices framework. Untill they are converted to the new webservices framework they will be there because we need a reference for converting. Just a matter of available resources to convert them ;)

#4 - 11/03/2011 17:52 - Hans De Bisschop

Actually NuSoap can also be used to consume Soap web services so we can't really delete it, still needs to be updated :)

couldn't find a php 5.3-ready version.
Sven has done some refactoring on the package (changed the constructors)
should be tested to make sure this is the only problem
