I have modified this file in order to verify space in course, it works fine for me, If the assignment is bigger than the free space in the course, it doesn't upload the assignment.

Please upload it.

If we are checking the free space for the course now, then we need to modify all the language variables corresponding to the course space to include the fact that it also checks for the work.

Given the fact that if we modify an existing language variable, the translators will have no idea this has changed, we should create new language variables (DiskQuotaDocsAndAssignments for example) with a new translation before release. I assume this will trigger massive animosity on the free campus (most active teachers will have to create new courses) but this is the right way to go for us in order to control better the space used.

If you're talking about the admin settings that's not possible (only if we change the section comment, section title fields in the database)

I'm updating the lang variables in spanish, english and french.

I forgot to tell you that we don't use the "lang" prefix any more the variable should be `get_lang('NoSpace')`; I sent the file with that correction
