i little less info than before. but o.k. . changing 'Tests' to 'Average score in learning paths' in good one too. Maybe some clearer description for assignments: i would expect absolute value of posted, but got average posted per user

Number of learners by session is empty
Number of courses per session is empty

#5 - 16/07/2012 12:21 - Julio Montoya

More fixed added, I removed the 2 lines: Number of learners by session and Number of courses per session because the results were wrong

#6 - 24/07/2012 13:11 - Marko Kastelic

- File align.png added
- Assignee set to Julio Montoya

ok for those two lines, i never figured out what are good for (accumulation of learners by sessions and course*s* per session*s* ?). i believe teacher does not (bloody) need this data, and beside that there is per session specification for every single session. Just minor UI adjustment in we can close this witouth any futher checking:

this is a little ugly, some alignments would be welcome:

Course sessions (1)

Active sessions	1
Number of inactive sessions	0

Title	Date	Number of learners by session	Number of courses per session	Details
MySession	.	2	6

I removed the "center" alignment, so everything depends now in the "data_table" CSS class. The default content alignment is at the left like most of the tables here: <http://twitter.github.com/bootstrap/base-css.html#tables> ok, 'aligning' headers of the columns to the left. Much better. Just the last one (i think): date from the session overview is empty (-) if due date (end date) is not defined; so if you specify only start date, there is no info about that.

#9 - 24/07/2012 16:20 - Julio Montoya

you're right, session dates should be fixed now

#10 - 25/07/2012 05:43 - Marko Kastelic

very good. I can't find anything new here. As for me, this one can be closed.

#11 - 25/07/2012 07:44 - Yannick Warnier

- Status changed from Needs more info to Bug resolved

- % Done changed from 70 to 100
