Description

The "Email users on Homework creation" is not working.

The only way to send the email is when the teacher checks who has not sent the homework and sends a reminder.

The reminder DOES mail.

Arthur can you please check this bug?

Hi Carlos,

This is in fact an error of language. We meant "Email users on Homework upload". We will rename this term to fix this error.

Anyway, if you consider this feature essential (sending an e-mail on homework creation), don't hesitate to explain why and we might be able to help you develop the patch...

If a teacher creates a homework, will be usefull if chamilo notifies automatically students (to their mail) so they know they have to do something avoiding the double task (teacher has, after creating the homework send an announcement to students commenting the new homework)...
