Description

Sorry my english...
If you give a grade with decimal on `gradebook_add_result.php` the grade is saved with the decimal part. (double).

If you attempt to change the "already in database" grades with the "modify button" -> `gradebook_view_result.php` file you get to save only the integer part...

Sollution:
You have to change code line 149 of the file: `gradebook_view_result.php` and modify the (int) to (double)

After the change you may modify grades and save the decimal part too.

Given that another one of our clients wanted to have the possibility to select the number of decimals of the score, I had to do some more changes, which are available in this commit: <http://code.google.com/p/chamilo/source/detail?r=f97f8aa284d0b5c390447a9b046d599ebd33291b&repo=classic>

Now you can select the number of decimals you want in the administration panel.

Yannick > The name of the language variable that needs to be set is GradebookScoringSystemRedirect, in the gradebook package. I added it in translate.chamilo.org, but you told me to let you translate it...

Carlos V > If you can test the new features and close the task if it's ok...

Given an English translation.

In the page where the text is shown, please use the Display::display_normal_message() method instead of hard-coding the normal-message . Give a "false" second attribute to ensure there is no HTML filtering.

When finished, you can pass the task to Carlos again and if he confirms, the task can be "Resolved"

Good job!
