Description

Once the global survey mechanism has been developed, it would be nice to have template survey questions (supported by translations) for teachers, and more qualitative tracking.

For teachers, ask them:

- How would you describe your usage of this e-learning platform with your students?
 - Mostly for content management - resources like office documents
 - Office resources plus some activities like forum, chat, quiz, etc
 - Use of multiple interactive or dynamic resources
 - Use of most tools inside the course and able to manage users subscriptions and several resources from outside of course context

For students tracking, try to figure out the following aspects:

- Checking on homeworks to be done
- Looking for static resources (documents, general information)
- Posting to forums
- Practising with quizzes
- Doing other work set by teacher
- Uploading completing homework
- Using the social network in groups (posting messages to groups)
- Using the social network for peer communication (sending messages to other users individually)
- Just browsing
- Showing family or friends about one's study items
- Looking for course-unrelated information (how to access school's services, etc)
- Sending messages to teachers
- Other things

This last list could show as a table of percentage of the whole students and a pie chart
