Description

The actual behavior is that the users has to exist if a trainer wants to assign (register) him a session.
The trainer (teacher) can't create a new student in a session.
He can do so in a course.

The idea is to have the session having the same behavior than a course, given that or the trainers are working with sessions or they are registering students/users directly into the course.

Thanks in advance.....
I set to 1.11
