Description

In the migration process of 1.9.x to 1.10.0, the details of the database changes appear on the final page. This is useful debug information, but it should not appear so prominently. Please make it appear in a closed div section (called "Details" or something like that) that can be opened to see the details.

I saw the details button, but so far given a few errors in the migration process, the button itself didn't serve any purpose yet.

- Status changed from Needs testing to Feature implemented

- % Done changed from 50 to 100
