Description

When importing on 1.10v the .csv file is auto inserted on the database after a sanity check and the errors are showed on a warning message with little info.

On 2.0 I propose to show a list with the users to be imported, so a human check could be made on the case that the .csv file was in wrong format or there is errors on email, username, or any other data.

On this case, a selection/edition of these users must be a possibility.
